

The Relation of Cytology and Education in Gradual and Postgraduate Medical Training Post-Congress Day of the 44th European Congress of Cytology

Department of Pathology and Experimental Cancer Research, Semmelweis University
Thursday, 5 October 2023

Moderator	Dr László Vass, PhD FIAC, president of the European Federation of Cytology Societies
09:30-10:00	Introduction Place and Significance of Cytology Teaching in Gradual and Postgraduate Curriculum Prof. Dr András Matolcsy, head of the Department of Pathology and Experimental Cancer Research, Semmelweis University
10:00-10:30	Cytology in Postgraduate Curriculum of Pathology in Europe - Diversity of Educational Models Ass. Prof. Danijela Vrdoljak-Mozetič, PhD, Clinical Department of Pathology and Cytology, Clinical Hospital Centre Rijeka, Croatia
10:30-11:00	How We Do It? Significance and Possible Results of Cytology Teaching as Part of the Medical Curriculum Prof. Dr Ambrogio Fassina, Professor of Pathology, University of Padova, Italy
11:00-11:30	Coffee break
11:30-12:00	QA and Practice of Molecular Cytology in the Curriculum Prof. Dr Fernando Schmitt, PhD, FIAC, Professor of Pathology, Medical Faculty of Porto University, Portugal
12:00-12:30	Practical FNAB, Its Advantages in Teaching Pathology Ass. Prof. Eszter Székely, PhD, Department of Pathology, Forensic and Insurance Medicine, Semmelweis University, Hungary
12:30-13:00	Discussion and closing
13:00-14:00	Buffet lunch and networking
14:00-16:00	Department visit